1. Key development issues and rationale for Bank involvement

The Government has requested the Bank the Additional Financing to support the consolidation of the peace-building strategy that has been developed through the Peace and Development Project.

The additional resources are needed consolidate the results achieved already and to meet one of the triggers for the follow-up APL II operation. The proposed Additional Financing would support the expansion of the project to a new department (Valle del Cauca), the regional consolidation of sub-projects and the strengthening of the administrative and institutional capacity of the groups. The AF would also foster the sustainability of a network of regional and local civil society development and peace programs in Colombia that focuses on building peace from the ground up through participatory development projects. Further, program consolidation would contribute to an extended and strengthened capacity of local partners to plan, implement and monitor peace and development initiatives in an integral manner.

2. Proposed objective(s)

The proposed objective of the Additional Financing remain the same as under the original project: To assist vulnerable, low-income and displaced populations in rural and urban communities in the conflict affected region in order to reduce the risk of their exposure to conflict and mitigate the negative impact of possible derived effects. The investments of the project seek to improve the quality of life of vulnerable communities and permit the sustainable social and economic reintegration of families displaced by violence.

3. Preliminary description

The proposed Additional Financing (AF) would contribute to consolidate the strategy advanced by the Peace and Development Project while at the same time it would expand its activities to the Department of Valle del Cauca. The proposed Additional Financing would include 9 departments (Antioquía, Bolívar, Cauca, César, Nariño, Norte de Santander, Santander, Sucre and Valle del Cauca).

No changes are proposed to the design or implementation arrangements of the project. The activities would allow the consolidation of project financed activities into strategic territorial development processes.

Based on the findings of the mid-term review carried out in May 2007, as well as progress reports and supervision missions, slight adjustments would be introduced by the Additional Financing to be more responsive to the conditions found in the communities. The Additional Financing would merge into one component all the activities under components A (Developing Social, Economic and Environmental Assets in Priority Areas) and B (Support for Displaced Families in the Process of Return and Relocation).

Component A (former component A and B): This component would provide social, economic, environmental and community support for displaced and vulnerable families in conflict affected region or priority areas.

Component B (former component C): This component would support the: (i) strengthening of the institutional capacity of Partner Organizations and Territorial Units; and (ii) strengthening of the institutional capacity of SNAIPD by Partner Organizations.

Component C (former component D): This component would support overall Project coordination, evaluation, supervision, including, carrying out of project studies.

4. Safeguard policies that might apply

As the Additional Financing would support similar activities to those already approved under the original project, the initial Environmental Category rating of B would be maintained. The initial Environmental Assessment found that, on balance the project was expected to have either positive or neutral impacts on the environment. Supervision reports and the assessment of environmental and social specialists indicate that current safeguard arrangements, institutional capacity to deal with safeguard issues and current performance of the Project Unit and Partner Organizations are satisfactory. The Additional Financing would maintain the environmental safeguard procedures already in place for subproject screening, evaluation, approval and monitoring. In preparation of the Additional Financing, a review of existing procedures was conducted by the PCU. Environmental and social specialist (consultant) confirmed the Environmental Category B rating and the appropriateness of the existing procedures. The AF does not trigger any new safeguard policy.

The Operational Manual includes a classification of potential investments and subproject screening procedures to ensure that appropriate management plans for the different types of investments are developed and implemented. Ongoing supervision has found that, for the most part, subprojects have had either positive or neutral impacts on the environment, and those with potential negative impacts have had implemented mitigation plans accordingly. The Additional Financing would continue with the same approach.

An Indigenous Peoples Development Framework (IDPF) was developed for the original project in consultation with Indigenous organizations and taking into consideration the Colombia Constitution and legal framework with respect to Indigenous Peoples as well as with the Bank's policy and guidelines. Supervision data indicates that the IDPF supported several indigenous communities in four regions of the project. The Project financed activities that were part of the Planes de Vida (Life Plans) of the indigenous peoples and in other cases, provided financial and technical support for the formulation of Planes de Vida for communities that did not have them.

In preparation for the Additional Financing, the PCU reviewed the IPDF to reflect lessons learned in its implementation. At the same time, an Indigenous Specialist (consultant) revised the IPDF and its implementation and consulted with indigenous communities from the new department of Valle del Cauca to reflect the reality of the new area as well as the changes that took place during project execution in the current areas of influence.
